

The Office of the Minister, Rev. George Chapman, Protestant.

The members of the Holland Dutch Reformed Church on 205 West Eleventh street were very much alarmed over the disappearance of their deacon. This missing man is E. G. Fasson, aged 40, has not been seen for about four weeks, and it is believed he has been missing for five years. He was employed by W. H. Behlefeldt & Co., upholsterers, at quarters at the corner of Beekman and William streets, and he retained the place after his master until his disappearance.

From the time of his departure in this country he has been actively connected with the Holland Dutch Reformed Church. Two years ago he was made a deacon. The church has been without a pastor for a long time, but the Rev. Mr. G. D. G. of the Evangelical Lutheran Church has accepted a call to the pulpit. It will be expected that the parsoned and church will be soon in full operation.

He was provided with an official stamp, and had collected about $200 according to a list which he left.

On April 12, Mr. Fasson left his boarding place before breakfast. After two days inquiries were made at his place of business and it was learned that he had disappeared there during the week of March 25.

Henry J. Verne, the treasurer of the Holland Dutch Reformed Church, has written to the officers of the church to inquire of the members of the church that he went away for a few days and is somewhere, or has met with some misfortune.

He had obtained a position with a firm which employed Fasson shortly before him. A few days after Fasson's departure a short call came to him from the strength of a letter written to him by Fasson from Philadelphia. The delivery was refused, and the letter remains in the post office box.

Fasson's father is well to do, but he recently married and made a new will in favor of his wife, leaving his son nothing.

He was intended to be married to a young woman who is an active member of the Holland Dutch Reformed Church.

BULKELEY WANTS MORE TIME.

His Answer to the One Warranty Proceedings Not Ready.

New Haven, April 24.—The Superior Court in this city was informed this morning in anticipation of the answer which Gov. Bulkeley and Gen. Mervin, Morris, were to make to the quo warranto proceedings which were instituted last week by Judge B. Morris and Dr. Alcott. No answer was made, however, and again the many lawyers and citizens were disappointed.

Judge Brantley was on the bench, and after a few minutes had been set down for trial consented to let a motion in the quo warranto proceedings—viz., a request from Attorney C. A. Morris, Attorney-at-law of Hartford, counsel for Gov. Bulkeley, addressing the Court:

"In the case as continued until that date, we are making that the case of Gov. Mervin is paramount to Judge Bulkeley's case."

Dms. Morris, April 24.—The people of Des Moines were shocked on Tuesday last to see their Mayor in a state of helpless intoxication. A newspaper friendly to him declares that "he was the innocent victim of a plot only less infamous than that by which the Czar-Gaspar compassed the assassination of Dr. Crook in Chicago." He was drugged in order to bring him into disrepute and assassinate his good name.

Mr. Stoddard, counsel for Judge Morris,

was asked if he could not get a延伸

order for an extension of time.

Judge Stoddard said he could not get a延伸 order, and therefore he would oppose the motion, but expressed regret that the gentleman had not an answer to day.

Thereupon he discontinued the case.

The request for more time on the part of Gov. Bulkeley's attorney was not a surprise, as it had been anticipated that the world would be interested in the result of the trial to a certain extent.

It is evident that the trial will be delayed.

The trial will be before the Supreme Court in June.

HUNDRED REWARDED.

Judge Bulkeley offers $100 reward to the person who will bring him to justice.

William E. Welsh of the Steaming Olive Blate also fled, but in the United States District Court he has three and a half score, claiming salvage for having saved them during the storm on Nov. 22, from the steamer, when they had been abandoned with these Scandinavian sailors aboard.

The court, in view of the statement of John Hill, a member of the crew, to the dumpings grounds, when a scullion, and left him to drift alone, is inclined to believe that the sailor was not to blame.
